SPECIAL ISSUE

WALKING AMONG MIGRANTS

BABIES BORN AS REFUGEES

LEAVING AFRICA FOR THE GAMBLE OF A LIFETIME

U.S.-MEXICO BORDER PORTRAITS

WORLD ON THE MOVE

Seas rise, crops wither, wars erupt. Humankind again seeks shelter in another place.
On the Cover
Rohingya refugees fleeing Myanmar by boat often brave rough seas to reach the southern tip of Bangladesh. Some 20 feet from shore, a woman with a baby jumped from the boat and waded the rest of the way.
K.M. Asad

Contents

Proof

17
The Big Idea
We Are All Migrants
Through time and space, humans are a migratory species.
By Mohsin Hamid

Embark

17

Planet or Plastic?
Reducing Plastic Waste From Food Containers
Designers and engineers are developing new food packaging materials.
By Elizabeth Royte

Explore

34
Through the Lens
Peace Like a River
For a photographer who’s drained after years of covering conflict, fly-fishing offers solace.
By Pete Muller

Building Bugs With Blooms
An artist uses natural materials he finds in his yard and among florists’ discards to make lively—and lifelike—portraits of insects.
Photographs by Raku Inoue

Also

Rocks in Crocs
A Mass of Meteorites
Secret Pollinator

Also

From Tank to Table
The sustainable future is now, with fish farms feeding plants that grow without soil.
By Monica Serrano

Also

Totem Pole Climb
Surfboard Shaper